EMPTY HALL TO LIBRARY RENOVATION

LABELED DESCRIPTION

The transformation of the empty hall into a cozy library space focused on creating a unique and visually engaging atmosphere.

→ The centrepiece of the design is the custom shelf, featuring a mixed pattern that not only serves as an eye-catching focal point but also creates a soothing visual flow.

→ To complement the light brown tones, a wooden pelmet was added along the window side.

→ In the balcony area, transparent glass railings were incorporated to preserve the unobstructed views from the room.

→ At the opposite end of the room, an appealing partition with wall panels was designed to address the unusual spacing between the columns.

→ To balance the strong patterns of the wall panels, a small study desk in a tone matching the shelf was placed nearby, maintaining harmony.

→ For the flooring, wooden parquet was chosen to enhance the warmth and texture, aligning with the light brown theme of the space.

→ Wooden planks were thoughtfully added to the headboard, striking a perfect balance by incorporating just the right amount of wood to avoid overwhelming the space.

→ The bedside tables on either side of the bed are strategically placed to provide functionality while maintaining ample space around the bed and sofa, ensuring a walkable and comfortable layout.

→ In the toilet area, a niche above the commode not only optimizes storage but also adds a stylish and appealing touch without occupying additional space.

→ A compact sofa with a reclining backrest is added in the corner, offering a cozy seating option without making the room feel congested.

→ The use of patterned tiles introduces a contrasting visual element, preventing the room from blending entirely with the wooden theme and creating an attractive, balanced design.
